

Cover

"Your cover is what you are equal to so you can present its validity and trueness."

Lady Ethra

The ability to offer cover to oneself and one's circles of involvement and domains of action is a consequence of an actual development journey made. Its influence on one's success, well being, dignity and spiritual destinic journey is very real and interlaces with an array of blessings. In the turmoil of the waning days of the gold kingdom and the beginning days of the incoming silver realm, cover is crucial and its impact ranges from a journey made in the local practical all the way to exploratory forays into the custodial and immortal.

On the weekend of May first and second we'll begin to explore this most vital realm of development with the intent to offer insightful tools to the subsequent personal path people may embark upon, if not already there.

You are warmly invited.

Ken, Sheena, Nina